

www.mdbbe.com

For Immediate Release

October 23, 2008

Contact: Marie Milie Jones, Esquire
(412-553-7103)

For Photos: Michelle M. Ellwood
mellwood@mdbbe.com

MEYER DARRAGH SENIOR PARTNER INDUCTED INTO DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY'S CENTURY CLUB

Marie Milie Jones, a senior partner with the law firm of Meyer, Darragh, Buckler, Bebenek & Eck, P.L.L.C., was recently inducted into the Duquesne University Century Club of Distinguished Alumni.

Attorney Jones was one of five 2008 inductees to receive this honor at a dinner on October 23. Started in 1978 to honor the University's most distinguished graduates, the Century Club was established to recognize graduates who demonstrate the spirit of the University through their professional and societal contributions.

"It is a great honor to be selected to join Duquesne University's Century Club," said Ms. Jones. "I have such high regard for my alma mater and am thrilled to be included in such an elite group."

A defense trial attorney who represents companies in employment matters and other clients in commercial disputes, Ms. Jones has also achieved prominence in her representation of counties and local governments sued by those who allege police abuse, excessive force, and other violations of constitutional rights.

Ms. Jones was born and raised in Greensburg, and is a cum laude graduate of Duquesne University and its law school. She also currently serves as Vice Chair of the University's Board of Directors. At age 35, she became managing attorney for Meyer Darragh, the youngest female to head up a major law firm in Pittsburgh's history. Now a resident of Cranberry Township, Marie is married to Cameron Jones, the owner of the Northland Ford and Northland Lincoln-Mercury car dealerships in Butler County.

Meyer Darragh is a mid-sized Pennsylvania law firm with offices in Altoona, Greensburg, and Pittsburgh and a particular focus on litigation defense, employment law, municipal law, and motor vehicle and criminal defense.